

Swanton Recreational Trail Study Swanton, VT

Description

As part of an engineering team, FHI provided environmental and cultural resources components of a design and construction project funded by the Vermont Agency of Transportation (VTTrans) through the Local Transportation Facilities program. FHI identified sensitive resources through VGIS and field delineation, documented environmental information, and coordinated with state and local officials on historic resource and environmental permitting issues.

Client

Town of Swanton, VT

